ATTRACTIVE. The holidays are coming, and our merchants are preparing for the peculiar trade of this season. Already we observe that many show windows pre- tions of the city. sent a magnificent display of nev and heantiful fancy goods.

AMUSEMENTS. To night the attacher of Davis' Opera House (Old Theatre) tender the proprietor a complimentary benefit. A programme more varied and attractive than usual has been prepared, and we doubt not the entertainment will be well attended.

THE present cold weather draws heavily upon the wood, stored up for distribution among the poor of the city. Already a large number of cords have been given away, and the draft continues unabated The pile of four hundred cords at the workhouse daily grows smaller.

SAD ACCIDENT.-Yesterday morning, at the corner of College and Carroll streets, a whilst the car was moving. He fell and was run over, the wheels passing over his body just below the shoulders. It is feared his hurt is mortal.

FENIAN.-The Fenian circle of this city is to meet to-night for reorganization under the auspices of Gen. O'Neill. Much enthusiasm is manifested among members in regard to the future operations of the order. The leaders here are in constant communication with the Head Centres of the East, and before long orders intensely interesting to the Brotherhood are expected. We unerstand that new circles are constantly being formed and that Fenianism is con stantly strengthening her ranks.

THE FIRE YESTERDAY MORNING. About half past one o'clock yesterday morning, the house of Dennis O'Connor, tion. The performance of the Hanlon well known as one of the most efficient themselves, as we have before mentioned constables of the city, caught fire and was seems to grow better with age. They have entirely consumed. CRIMINAL COURT. The case of Henry Allen, accused of the nurder of Jack Kennelly, has not yet been given to the jury. The morning and afternoon sessions yesterday were consumed by the speeches of the counsel for the defense and prosecution, and there are still two more pleas to be made before the close of the arguments, Two other men are still to be tried as implicated in the nurder of the policeman

LARCENY OF A WATCH. - A chap names Audren Wallace was yesterday arrested and brought before Esquire Wilkinsor on the charge of stealing a watch, valued at fifty dollars, the property of a boarder in the same house where Wallace stops. On account of the absence of witnesses for the defense, the case was continued until next Monday, the defendent meanwhile being remanded to jail in default of bail

A HORSE TRIEF CAPTURED .- A man named Bill Jones was taken into custody yesterday, on the charge of having stolen a horse, the property of a gentleman living on Market street. The case was brought up before 'Squire Wilkinson, who continued he case until to-day. Jones seems to be and old offender, and, if we are rightly in formed, was only released from the penitentiary, on the Governor's pardon, a couple of months ago. If convicted on the present charge, which seems to be a strong case, h will probably have an opportunity of working out his entire term. Horse thieves are too plenty just now for the good of the

It is a source of absolute enjoyment t watch the progress of the workmen now engaged in fitting up the Maxwell House, and to reflect that this vast structure, which has so long stood in barn-like emptines and gloom, like the dwelling of that individual mentioned in Scripture who com-menced to build but had not the wherewith to finish, is rapidly being completed. The five store rooms on the ground floor will all be ready for occupancy, probably, in the course of the next month. The sidewalk on the Church street side is progressing rapidly, and will soon be finished. Onward the march of improvement.

Horse THIEVING .- We learn that Monday night a farmer living near Lebanon, our informant was unable to give the name of the party, had four splendid stules and a fine horse stolen from his stables. We learn from our exchanges and from private sources, that hands of horse thieves are | infant daughter of H. Clay and Lizzie G. We regret that some means, speedy and efficacious, cannot be adopted by which to rid the country of these scoundrels. Hardly a day pusses that we are not called upon to chronicle the story of a farmer pillaged or a house robbed of the hard earnings of the inmates

A FAST young gent, who came up to Nashville on a visit, being a sojourner in Memphis, had his pocket picked the other night of a fine repeater. He imbibed altogether too much of that article variously called "eye-opener," "nervine," etc., and on his way to the hotel ran against some person just as he was turning a corner. The institutual with whom he collided was profuse in apologies, assisted young gent to his feet and kindly offered to escort him to the hotel, and the two walked arm in arm for some distance. SLAVE CLAIMS.-The attention of the reader is particularly called to the advertisement of Messrs. Chipman, Hosner & Co., to be found elsewhere in to-day's issue This responsible and entirely reliable Wsah ington house has established a branch office in this city for the purpose of collecting claims against the government for slaves of loyal owners enlisted in the army during the war; but while this class of claims will constitute the speciality of these gentlemen, they hold themselves ready to receive and prosecute all description of claims against the government. The establishment of this agency here, will serve somewhat to relieve Hogs, Corn and Outs. Terms made known the minds of many claimants from the apprehension that the government never inended to pay for slaves enlisted in the army; for these gentlemen are fresh from Washington, and, as we are advised, fully posted in the designs of the department and enjoy their confidence to an eminent degree. They have, also, been engaged for several months in this branch usiness in the States of Maryland, Misouri and Kentneky, and it isapparent that the experience thus gained will be of great ervice to claimants and agents who may desire to secure their services.

The Crosby Art Union Scheme-What is Needed to Make its Success Complete.

It has already been announced in the lumns, by the official card of the committee, that the distribution of the premiums of the association will be made by them or the 21st of January next, and the annonncement has no doubt gratified a great many people. The honor as well as the in terest of Chicago is so concerned in the result of this gigantic scheme, that the certainty of its success is a matter for congratu lation, and, in view of the grand propor tions of the enterprise, of not a little pride There is, however, danger that, while icitating ourselves on the accomplished necess of the scheme, we may overlook the fact that the association is a success to the certificate holders and the public alone, s far, and that now it is that Mr. Crosby's ersonal interest commences. A sufficient number of certificates have been sold to pay the minimum value of the property, and the arrangements for its conveyance are now final. But, as all know, the object of the association was not to dispose of the pecuniary benefit from the art association the remaining certificates must be not only disposed of, but that speedily. The time required for the enterprise has extended far beyond that calculated, and the prolonged outlay has been greatly increased by the necessity of overcoming at every step the prejudice excited abroad by all sorts of swindling schemes. The expenses have consequently largely exceeded he original estimates, and, as a matter of course, proportionately reduced the chances There are hundreds city yet who intend buying certificates before the close, and there are hundreds who have bought who design to buy more before the drawing. Now, to those it cannot make the slightest difference whether they take their certificates this week or four weeks hence; but if those and such as those throughout the country could be brought to realize that upon the fact whether they shall buy their certificates a few weeks earlier or later actually depends Mr. Crosby's sole chance of realizing any personal advantage whatever from this great undertaking, surely none would longer delay. We learn that some of our business men, who practically understand this, are organing the different business interests so that each shall be represented in a general movement, having for its object the formation of merchant's clubs, which will hold a irge number of certificates.

And what benefit has resulted to the national finances? None whatever. There has been no real contraction of the currency, and at the same time the disturbance of the money market has stopped the conversion of 7-30s into 5-20s. The management of the Treasury Department, upon the whole for the month of November, looks like a very bungling operation. This proves, if proof were necessary, the importatee of having the business conducted openly. Mr. McCulloch, by operating secretly, may scare the public, but that This is doing well, all things considered. course must reduce the revenue, while it will accomplish nothing toward reducing the volume of currency, or getting the debt into a more manageable shape. This cannot be paid. It must be converted into long bonds, and how are these bonds to be sold if the money market is kept in a fever of excitement by the secret operations of the Treasury Department? The result of an attempt to put long bonds upon a close money market. would be a heavy decline in prices. The holders of 7-30s know this, and they know also that these bonds are payable in cash or 6 per cent, gold bonds at maturity. This ption, in view of the talk about an early "Parties who have been robbed of bonds are commencing suits against the parties holding them, or against the parties through whose hands they have passed. These suits are getting very namerous. The law in relation to the ownership of bonds that are bayable to bearer, including notes that are issued in blank, is well defined. It is, that the holder or "bearer" is the owner of the bond or note; and nothing can impair his title short of proof that he is the robber, or is in collusion wash the robber. It is a misfortune to the unlucky parties who have lost their aged jurces to give verdicts contrary to the well-defined principles of law; for, after losing their bonds, they are sure to lose more in law series when the higher courts have finally settled the case. "Parties who have been robbed of bonds are when the higher courts have finally celtied the cases.

"In the case of Sibell against the National Currency Bank, in the Court of Common Pleas, the Judge charged!

"Did the notice of the robbery ever reach the defendants." If it did, and they chose to disregard it, then they are not purchasers in good faith, because if they purchased after notice, or willfully shutting their eyes against notice, the law considers the purchase to be made in had laith. In other words, a purchase after notice implies bail faith."

that the woolen manufacturers are very generally curtailing their production of goods, some by a total suspension of work, others by running their machinery on half or two-thirds time, and adds; "As yet, there has been no netaide contraction of evoluction amons the cotton marrian-turers, for the reason that as a rule they have not sustained losses compelling such a course. It may be well, however, for that class of producers to keep a close look out upon the matter of supply and demand in respect to their goods.

There is reason for suppesing that, with respect to the supply of cotton goods, matters are not exactly as they would appear to be from a arrive of stocks in the New York market. Manufacturers best know what amount of stock they are bolding at the mills; and without making any assertion as to the quantity being unually asks the question, Will flour be lower? and as the solution of it interests the entire community, we reproduce the World's answer to its own question, as follows: "The notion prevalent in some quarters that The notion prevalent in some quarters that the price of flour and grain is to become very high during the winter is not horne out by the statements of the quantity of grain in the country. On the contrary, there appears to be every reason for lower prices than those which now obtain, both as regards the present and the littere. A letter from our Chicago correspondent contains some very interesting statistics beginning contains some very interesting statistics bearing apon the subject, a portion of which we reproduce in this connection. The following table shows the quantity of grain received at this age from the 1st of January to the lat of Decamber, as compared with that received during the corresponding months last year:

of wheat received at Unleage for elevel months in 1865 and 1866 was respectively 14,624,491 and 20,043,045, and a comparison of the two shows an increase this year of 37 per cent. Such facts as these are arguments in themselves, and clearly above that no good reason exists for the present high prices of flour or for appehending that it will be still higher. high prices of flour or for appelending that will be still higher. "Estimating five bushels of wheat to the be rel, as before, as it ascertained that the to antity of grain and grain in flour receiving during the months specified in 1867 Chicago during the months specified in 1853 at 1856, was respectively 51,51,203 and 6,851,9 bushels, the mercase this year being nearly per cent. This does does not be kilke a scarci of cereals, nor forbode high arises for the during the next few months. The canclusies therefore, is irrestable that, under the octimat operations of trade, the prices of cereals mutend downwards."

The Columbia Herold and Gazette of the 8th inst, says: "In the Nashville Union and Dispetch of Thursday, we find the statement that cotton is prevented from caming into Nashville by delaying the assessing and weighing it at several points and which the assessing and weighing the control of the several points and the several points are several points. prevented from coming into Nashville by delay in the assessing and weighing it at several points, and among others, at Columbia. We cannot speak for any other place, but justice to the officials charged with the duty of assessing cotton at this place, demands that we should correct this assure our contemporary that no cotton has ever been detained at this place a single train for want of boing assessed and weighed. The tax law and all of its regulations are infamous anonyance. If there is any fault in this matte. It lies somewhere else, it cannot be charged with its administration at that place, to say that they do all in their power to relieve it from annoyance. If there is any fault in this matte, it lies somewhere else, it cannot be charged to Columbia. We would merely suggest that it is barely possible that the cotton, which according to our extemporary, does not come into Nashville fast enough, sees through Nashville on to Meunphia, New Oriens or Louisville. If our cotemporaries will take the trouble to aramine the freight rates, they will find that en one railroad at lenst, Nashville is made a mere way station, where passengers set their meals on the way to some other place."
